ERAÏ is a privately held global information services organization that monitors, investigates and reports issues that are affecting the global supply chain of electronics. Since 1995, ERAÏ has been the industry's primary reporting and investigation service, providing information and risk mitigation solutions to electronics professionals worldwide. ERAÏ is comprised of Original Component Manufacturers (OCMs), Original Equipment Manufacturers (OEMs), Distributors (franchised and independent), Contract Manufacturers (CMs), government agencies and associations serving the industry.

ERAÏ's services and risk assessment tools are continuously enhanced to keep pace with our Members' needs and concerns. ERAÏ's proprietary database and an experienced and personable staff provide our Members with the tools they need to prevent problem situations before they happen, thereby avoiding unforeseen financial losses. In addition to the numerous risk mitigation services offered by ERAÏ, our organization also tracks and reports information on the rapidly growing problem of corporate identity theft.

ERAÏ is the leader for in-depth information on counterfeit, sub-standard and high-risk parts which provides Members with the industry's most comprehensive list of known problem electronic components. Access to this valuable information stored in ERAÏ's High Risk Parts Database enables your company or organization to better mitigate risks in your procurement process on both off the shelf and end of life or obsolete parts.

ERAÏ brings together industry best practices for risk mitigation, vendor qualification and order screening to help you prevent losses and safeguard your business in today's rapidly changing and complex international business environment.
